Conversation 1: Asking About Countries

Emily:

Hi! Where are you from?

John:

I'm from Australia. And you?

Emily:

I'm from the United States. What is Australia like?

John:

It's a beautiful country with many beaches and animals like kangaroos. What about the United States?

Emily:

It's big! We have many states, and each one is different. Have you ever been to the US?

John:

No, but I would love to visit someday!

Conversation 2: Asking About Family

Maria:

Do you have a big family, Leo?

Leo:

Yes, I do. I have two brothers and one sister. How about you?

Maria:

I have a small family, just me and my parents.

Leo:

Do you see your family often?

Maria:

Yes, we live together. What about your family?

Leo:

I live with my brothers. My sister lives in another city.

Conversation 3: Asking About Jobs

Anna:

What do you do for a living, Tom?

Tom:

I'm a teacher. I teach English. What about you?

Anna:

I work in a hospital. I'm a nurse.

Tom:

That sounds like a tough job. Do you enjoy it?

Anna:

Yes, I do. It's hard but very rewarding. Do you like teaching?

Tom:

Yes, I love it! I like helping students learn.
